* This boat did get water in the oil last time it was ran, a compression test was done and it was fine, a riser was replaced but was told later that the both should of been replaced together. Another riser will run $$ 200-$ 275$ that is the minimum you will need to get her going. This boat is being sold as-is. At this price you could sell the outdrive to recoup your money, owner has other boats and lost interest.
